TEMPLAR KNIFE

A CUT ABOVE!

The Reagan Field Dressing Knife

The Templar Knife Regan skinning/ gutting knife was designed by an Animal/Meat Scientist with an emphasis on beef quality. The "Reagan", engineered to be just as effective in a commercial setting as it is out in the field. A gut-hook combined with a thicker blade heel enhances the ease of a full-cavity evisceration process. Templar blades are precisely heat treated, taper ground, and then finished to a "close-shave" sharp edge for superior edge retention and performance.

ZT ZERO TOLERANCE KNIVES

Jen Anso 0230
Minimalist design meet maximum performance in the new 0230 from ZT and Danish designer Jens Ansø. This slip-joint knife features a double detent system: two steel detent balls, one on each side of the blade. The hold the blade safely closed for carrying. Then, for controlled open and close, the 0230 also has a half-open position. Everything combines to make this a simple, yet extraordinary pocketknife.

0707
Finding the perfect balance between big and small, the ZT 0707 offers something for everyone with its premium looks and cutting performance. Its sleek profile is comfortable in the hand, while also keeping a low profile in the pocket. Yet its 3.5-inch blade offers a substantial edge for most cutting tasks. Plus, for a first in the Zero Tolerance lineup, users can access the blade with ZT's Tuned Detent System (TDS™), which allows the knife to be opened even with pressure on the lockbar. A reversible extra-deep-carry pocket clip, carbon fiber handle scales, and CPM 20CV blade steel round out this feature-packed ZT innovation.

Viper® SD

The Viper® SD is light - only 20 lbs. with a seat and cables. It is also portable, the frame nests together and packs on your back. The solid front bar makes it easy to use - no supporting your weight on your arms. Just sit on the bar and let your legs do the work. The frame design works just as well for bowhunting as with a rifle. It can do it all - and it is no wonder why the Viper® SD is so popular.

PRIMOS HUNTING

Double Bull® Tri Stool

When you spend as much time in our ground blinds as we do, you eventually create the "best seat in the house" instead of trying to "make do" with some chair from a discount store. Standard chairs are apt to cut off blood flow on the back of your legs, leading to discomfort and cold feet. They also restrict mobility and don't allow the range of motion that our QS3 Tri-Stool provides. Of course, we designed this tri-stool at the perfect height to see through all of our blind window openings.

Sitting still so the turkeys won't see you is no longer a challenge. Due to its special contour, The Shooters Rump Rester™ Turkey Hunting Seat provides a comfortable shooting position and can be used in either direction, depending on the slope of the ground. The seat keeps you above the rocks and tree roots and the legs are twice as wide as those on typical seats to keep you from sinking into the forest floor on wet morning hunts. Four 12 ga. shotshell holders are molded in to prevent fumbling with ammo, when you need it most. Fishermen will also enjoy this seat not only for its comfort, but because it has a place to prop their rods.

Elegant & Armed Concealment Camisole

Our patent-pending, multi-layer design ensures the best possible concealment. The substantial underlayer is reinforced by eight panels – often called our 360-degree printing shields- that work to prevent an outline of the gun from showing through clothing. The material on top creates dimension and movement, further softening the appearance of any sharp edges. This innovative design creates a sleek look while providing you with the protection you need.
